

Bullet points for Geography class student content goals

During the 2016-2017 academic year I will utilize the following bullet points to help our students learn more than the required content for graduation.

Students will be able to

1. Read and analyze data on maps and graphs
2. Identify geographic regions; such as landforms, countries, capitals, and major cities
3. Recognize cultural differences within regions
4. Identify connections between environmental influences on regions and among people
5. Identify and apply geographical terms
6. Identify political structures and economic systems within regions
7. Analyze how historical events shape the current issues of today
8. Evaluate the effects of economic systems and the cultural influences of society
9. Explain how regions relate to another
10. Teach students good study habits.
11. An understanding of the Biblical foundations of the Regions in Middle East and how they shaped us.
12. Have students learn to work with each other to complete classroom goals.
13. Identify and evaluate human and physical characteristics of place
14. Analyze people, goods and ideas.